

Mothering Sunday

Worried about pleasing mum this Mothering Sunday? The Restaurant at St Paul's provides the perfect package. Historical, cultural and ultimately delicious, there is no better destination to guarantee a smile and say 'thank you'.

On Sunday 14th March, the Restaurant at St Pauls Cathedral is offering a special Mothering Sunday Lunch that includes an English sparkling Forced Rhubarb Bellini on arrival, or a soft drink should you prefer.

Choose from a three-course menu, showcasing dishes from across the country, guests can make the most of delightful starters such as Chalk Farm smoked salmon with kohlrabi, shallot and soda bread; hot crust pork pie and piccalilli; or Norfolk chicken livers, bacon and London bloomer.

Mains range from a traditional roast of Brookland Farm free range chicken with purple sprouting broccoli, leek and lemon puree; to Cornish plaice, mussels and clams; or Scottish beef strip loin, curly kale, roast potatoes, carrots and Yorkshire pudding.

Puddings of Regent's Park honey ice and gingerbread sandwich; alongside rhubarb, vanilla and hazelnut tart with clotted cream tease those with a sweet tooth, whilst a selection of Neal's Yard cheeses is perfect with port to finish the meal.

As a special gift, mums will be given a hand tied bunch of spring daffodils alongside homemade chocolate truffles to takeaway. At just £30 per person, happiness has never been so affordable.
